Last evening, still another big audience was with Traveloguer Roberson when he toured the width and breadth of the delightful Emerald Isle. The Irish people in their native environment, the historic old buildings and the places of traditional and legendary interest made up an evening's entertainment pleasant in the extreme.

Tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. "Germany and the War," one of Mr. Roberson's most compelling subjects, ig to be presented. It will be the offering given twice before, which drew capacity audiences. Motion pictures of the German army and navy, the kaiser and members of the royal family will be featured. Colored views will porfray the great nation, giving will portray the great nation, giving glimpses of its great cities, of its country districts and of its lovely mountain scenery in Bavaria.

Actual Battle Scenes Scheduled. Actual scenes on the battlefront in Belgium will be shown in motion ture, commencing next Monday, at Convention Hall, through an arrangement just made by The Star and Traveloguer Roberson. Exclusive rights for Wash noperson. Exclusive rights for Wash-ington have been secured for the use of four reels taken on Belgian battle-fields during September and October by Edwin F. Weigle, motion picture photographer, and will be shown in connection with The Star-Roberson series of travelogues, "The Nations at War."

series of travelogues, "The Nations at War."

The first exhibition of the pictures will be given at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, and the second Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The pictures will be presented at the same hours every day next week. In addition to the 4,000 feet of film, Traveloguer Roberson will give a talk and will interpolate many of his own colored views showing Belgium as it was before and as it is after the invasion by the Germans.

Only Pictures of Their Kind. The motion pictures by Mr. Weigle are the only ones of their kind before the American public and were secured solely through the co-operation of the Belgian government.

Belgian government.

Although the film has been secured for Washington at an enormous expense, readers of The Star are to benefit in its presentation here. In spite of this exceptional feature, the admission prices will be identically the same as those prevailing for the travelogues, now in their second week at Convention Hall. Ten cents will be the admission for one-half of the house, if the purchaser of tickets is provided with the coupen which The Star will carry on its first page daily. The other half of the house is 25 cents, the seats belng in the reserved section. Only the coupon from The Sunday Star will be honored for the Sunday travelogue.
